RIDING THE CREST OF A WAVE!

A unique relationship forged between Distinction Property Services and Kellaway Bathrooms has meant that the two companies have been riding the crest of a wave since their working relationship was formed three years ago.

Kellaway Bathrooms specialises in retailing bathrooms – that's their expertise. Over the years it has built a fantastic reputation and customer base which attracts repeat business year after year.

Realising that customers often require fitting and installation services, Kellaway teamed up with Distinction Property Services, who although at the time were a young company, brought with them a wealth of experience in this field. The two companies felt that together they could expand and capitalise on each others dedicated standard of quality to customers.

Distinction Property Services continue to grow, with an ever expanding fleet they remain very much in demand from other market leaders, however continue to build the relationship with Kellaway Bathrooms and their customers. This gives Kellaway Bathrooms the confidence to recommend Distinction in fitting to a dedicated standard which can be relied upon. It's quid pro quo – without quality fitters Kellaway Bathrooms would not be able to refer and recommend. Likewise without a loyal supply chain from Kellaway, Distinction would not be able to work with the precision and accuracy it does keeping to dates often booked more than 6 months in advance.

The value of this working relationship really is that word of mouth advertising does work. With the help of Kellaway Bathrooms - Distinction is set to start on their seventh customer from the same street which is all based on word of mouth and recommendation. In this day and age, this is fantastic.

Distinction Property Services was created to make life easier for the client, working with a range of suppliers we are able to cater to individual tastes. From start to finish they work alongside the customer and Kellaway Bathrooms to create the project the customer requires.
